QUESTIONS SHOT AT HIM FROM ALL SIDES

Lawyers and Jurors Take Hand in Quizzing Of Darrow

Defendant Has Been On The Stand For Six Days

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 5.—Darrow left the witness stand in his trial for alleged jury bribing at four o'clock today, thus practically closing the case for the defense.

Nearly the entire day was consumed by cross-examination concerning conversations between Darrow and John R. Harrington, arranged by the latter at the instigation of Federal Prosecutor Oscar Lawler, as testified by Harrington and recorded by means of a mechanical eavesdropper. Judge Hutten ruled at the beginning of today's session that the defendant could be examined as to the conversations and excerpts from transcripts read in the form of impeaching questions. Darrow was on the witness stand six days.

At the conclusion of the cross-examination by Assistant District Attorney Ford, Attorney Rogers, of the defense, conducted a brief re-direct examination which was concluded in something like an open forum, Darrow answering the questions hurled at him by District Attorney Fredericks, Ford, Rogers and jurors. Four of the jurors joined in the quizzing, which covered a wide scope, some of the questions concerning phases of the case almost forgotten.

FATE OF THE STEEL BILL RESTS WITH TAFT

Believed That President Will Put the Veto Sign on It

Stanley Report on Steel Trust Soon Comes To Debate

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5.—The iron and steel tariff bill today received the signatures of Speaker Clark and Acting President Bacon of the Senate, and went to the president. This is the first of the tariff revision bills passed by the Democratic-Progressive alliance in the Senate to reach the chief executive. Close friends of the president express the conviction he will veto it because no investigation of the industry has been made by the tariff board.

Stanley Wants Action.
Representative Stanley of Kentucky, introduced in the House today a special rule to precipitate debate on the results of his committee's investigation of the United States Steel Corporation. Stanley failed a few days ago to get an order from the House fixing Thursday of this week as the day on which to thresh out the differences between Democratic and Republican members. His plan under the rule is to devote six hours on Thursday to debate, half of the time to be controlled by himself and half of the time by Representative Gardner, Republican of Massachusetts.

MACK TELLS HOW MONEY WAS SPENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic National committee in 1908, today told the Senate committee which is investigating the campaign funds, that the contribution by J. M. Guffey of Pennsylvania, was the only one he could remember having been refused. Mack added that after Bryan's defeat the committee was several thousand dollars in debt and Guffey's contribution was accepted. The official report of expenditures which the committee filed at Albany was correct and accounted for every dollar contributed, said Mack.

BEQUEST OF $50,000 TO PIONEER'S HOME

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 5.—Fifty thousand dollars in good hard cash has been willed to the Arizona Pioneer's Home at Prescott by the late William Parsons of San Francisco, and within a month or so several thousand dollars, as first payment, will probably be turned over to the state.

Attorney General Bullard has just returned from California and while in the golden state he visited San Francisco to look after the interests of the Pioneer Home in the settlement of the Parsons estate. According to the terms of his will Parsons left two-twelfths of his entire fortune to the Arizona Pioneer's Home, and with the settlement of the estate, it was found that this would amount to about $50,000. A part of this is in San Francisco real estate and Bullard has advised the Pioneer's Home will receive considerable more money if the sale is delayed a year or so, as the property is rapidly increasing in value. William Parsons is well remembered by all old-time residents of this state, having lived in Tombstone in the early days. He was one of the original locators of the famous Contention mine near Tombstone.

CONVENTION VERITABLE LOVE FEAST

POLICE RAISING BIG FUND FOR BECKER

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—A police fund of fifty thousand dollars is being raised for the defense of Charles Becker, the police lieutenant, charged with instigating the murder of Rosenthal, according to information received by Whitman tonight. The money is being collected, it is said, by the collected system "which is to be investigated by Whitman, who believes there is a corrupt alliance between the system and the gambling fraternity, founded on graft and blackmail."

Not a dissenting voice was raised. The question of negro representation from the South had caused friction earlier in the day in the national committee but on the floor of the convention there was no echo of this fight.

Delegates Enthusiastic.
The delegates at times were explosive in their enthusiasm. Many state delegations came into the hall singing and shouting in their delight at the birth of the new party, and three hours later left the building in the same happy frame of mind. Although green hands were supposed to be at the helm, the machinery of the convention worked smoothly and efficiently. There was no roll call of delegates, but the delegate section of the floor was arranged in the same manner as at the Republican National convention a few weeks ago, accommodating nearly 1,100 persons and being entirely filled. The alternate section also had its full quota. When the proceedings began the gallery had few empty seats.

The convention leaders were enthusiastic tonight over the showing in the Coliseum, and made the claim that no better looking or more substantial set of delegates was ever seen on the floor of a national convention.

The work of the national committee on contested delegate's cases caused a delay of nearly three-quarters of an hour in the assembling of the convention. During the wait the delegates amused themselves with songs and yells composed for the occasion, while a band near the flag-draped steel rafters, and the Grand Army life and drum corps of the stage vied with each other in playing patriotic airs.

Beveridge Cheered.

There was a great cheer as Senator Dixon, national chairman, rapped for order. This was repeated later when the call for the convention was read, and even greater was the enthusiasm when Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, was presented as the choice of the national committee for temporary chairman. The

VERITABLE LOVE FEAST

Leader's "Confession of Faith" Will Be Heard When He Addresses Delegates at Noon Today.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 5.—For vice-president, Governor Hiram Johnson, of California; for permanent chairman, Judge Lindsay, of Denver. This slate was virtually agreed to by the National Progressive leaders tonight and met the approval of Roosevelt.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 5.—The first session of the national convention of the new Progressive party, of which Roosevelt is sponsor, was held today in the Coliseum and while the session was attended by all the usual ceremony and paraphernalia of a national political assemblage, the actual proceedings were suggestive of a love feast.

No Friction.
Not a dissenting voice was raised. The question of negro representation from the South had caused friction earlier in the day in the national committee but on the floor of the convention there was no echo of this fight.

Beveridge's Speech.
Mr. Beveridge spoke in part as follows:
"We stand for a nobler America. We stand for an undivided nation. We stand for a broader liberty, a fuller justice. We stand for social brotherhood as against savage individualism. We stand for an intelligent co-operation instead of a reckless competition. We stand for mutual helpfulness instead of mutual hatred. We stand for equal rights as a fact of life instead of a catch word of politics. We stand for the rule of the people as a practical truth instead of a meaningless pretense. We stand for a representative government that represents the people. We battle for the actual rights of man."

"To carry out our principles, we have a plain program of constructive reform. We mean to tear down only that which is wrong and out of date; and where we tear down we mean to build what is right and fitted to the times. We harken to the call of the present. We mean to make laws fit conditions as they are and meet the needs of the people who are on earth today. That we may do this, we found a party through which all who believe with us can work with us; or, rather, we declare our allegiance to the party which the people themselves have founded."

"For this party comes from the grass roots. It has grown from the soil of the people's hard necessities. It has the vitality of the people's strong convictions. The people have work to be done and our party is here to do that work."

"The speaker discussed the Republican and Democratic parties, the 'boss system' and 'special interests' saying among other things: 'At the present moment notorious bosses are in the middle of both old parties in various important states which must be carried to elect a president. Neither of the old parties' nominee for president can escape obligation to the old party bosses, nor shake their practical hold on many powerful members of the national legislature.'"

"Under this boss system no matter which party wins, the people seldom win; but the bosses almost always win."

Continuing his discussion of parties, Beveridge said:
